AWAS delivers two A320-200s to Viking Hellas

Dublin, 26 February 2010

Dublin based lessor, AWAS, has delivered two Airbus A320-200s to Viking Hellas Airlines who are headquartered in Athens, Greece.

Viking Hellas Airlines, the newest airline in the Viking Group, is a new customer for AWAS as well as a new operator for the Airbus A320. The airline focuses on leisure and tourist traffic and has recently expanded its operations from the UK and other European countries to the Mediterranean.

Christian Tadjeran, CEO of Viking Hellas Airlines, said "We are delighted to add the AWAS A320s to our fleet. These aircraft represent an important part of our plan to expand and to increase our frequency on routes including our Manchester - Athens route as of next month."

"AWAS is proud to be a part of the expansion of Viking Hellas Airlines. This delivery underlines AWAS' commitment to maintaining a diversified customer base and to supporting new Airbus operators both in Europe and globally." said Franklin Pray, CEO of AWAS.

About AWAS

Headquartered in Dublin, with offices in New York, Miami, and Singapore, AWAS is one of the largest aircraft leasing companies in the world. The company is managed by a highly experienced team of commercial aviation industry professionals serving markets in The Americas, Europe, Middle East, and Asia/Pacific.
